Prytanean Faculty Award Reception

On the evening of November 10, 2022, Chancellor Christ and Prytanean Alumnae hosted Prytanean students, alumnae, and guests at University House for Prytanean's annual Faculty Award Reception. The guest of honor was 2022 Faculty Award winner Dr. Anna Livia Brand, Assistant Professor of Department of Landscape Architecture and Environmental Planning at UC Berkeley. Professor Brand was awarded a $25,000 grant from Prytanean in recognition of her outstanding research, teaching, and mentorship to students.

Chancellor Carol Christ opened the evening by welcoming Prytanean members to University House. She sincerely thanked the Prytanean Alumnae for their ongoing commitment to provide the Prytanean Faculty Award to early career faculty including the 1998 recipient Carolyn Bertozzi who was named the 2022 Nobel Prize winner in Chemistry. Prytanean Alumnae Faculty Awards Chair, Phyllis Tien '86 joined the Chancellor at the podium to provide remarks celebrating the generous donations that make the Faculty Award possible each year.

Tien then introduced Professor Brand, who joined the faculty in 2017 after completing her Bachelor and Master of Architecture at Tulane, a second Master's degree in Urban and Regional Planning from the University of Orleans, and a Ph.D. at MIT in Urban Planning. Her research examines the intersection of race, place, and landscape to inform and achieve environmentally just urban design and planning strategies. Her Department Chair described her research as "potentially transformative" and that while "issues of race and urban environment are much in the news...Professor Brand presents a record of carefully honed, highly nuanced scholarship based on meticulous fieldwork, dedicated community engagement, and precise insight." Tien's presentation concluded with the presentation of a bouquet of flowers and plaque to Professor Brand. Professor Brand then thanked the Prytaneans for the Faculty Award and described how the Award will support her research and mentoring work. The remarks concluded with a special photo of all members

Message from the President

As we enter a third year in a global pandemic where we coexist with COVID-19, the health and wellbeing of our Prytanean alumnae continues to be center in our minds and hearts. With loosening restrictions and reopening for on campus events and programming, we continue to take an agile approach while being mindful of health and safety protocols in our in person gatherings. Students returned to campus in-person after spending the last two years in-person, hybrid, and online. However, they continue to face career and financial uncertainty as the world faces economic and geopolitical challenges.

We hosted our first Summer Welcome Party where we welcomed incoming female identifying freshman students to the Cal campus while building community and Cal spirit with the incoming students and their families, fellow Prytanean alumnae, and Honor Society members.

During Homecoming Weekend, we held our annual Prytanean Homecoming Lecture in-person for the first time since the pandemic began and the lecture was selected for live streaming. Professor G. Cristina Mora, Associate Professor of Sociology and Chicano/Latino Studies and the Co-Director of the Institute of Governmental Studies at UC Berkeley and our 2015 Faculty Awards Winner, gave our Prytanean Homecoming Lecture—Latinos and the Future of the US Racial Landscape. Drawing on census, public opinion, and polling data, Professor Mora's work revealed how important Latinx issues are for understanding the racial future of our nation. Her lecture was insightful, informative, and examined inequality, identity, and the role that Latinx play in visions of racial justice and a multiracial democracy. Over 30 Prytanean alumnae, Honor Society members, students, and members of the public attended the lecture live at Pauley Ballroom and 100 unique participants streamed the lecture live on Youtube.

In the fall, we welcomed 12 newly initiated members into our fold at our Fall Honor Society Initiation Ceremony held at Slusser Room, International House. Maria Protti '79 provided a rich and fantastic overview of Prytanean's history.

Chancellor Carol Christ co-sponsored our Faculty Awards Reception and congratulated our newest faculty award recipient, Professor Anna Livia Brand, Assistant Professor with the UC Berkeley Department of Landscape Architecture and Environmental Planning. Phyllis Tien '86 introduced both and presented Professor Brand with a bouquet of flowers and a plaque, and acknowledged the contributions Prytanean had made on the Cal campus.

This spring, in collaboration with the Honor Society, we launched a pen pal program between Prytanean Honor Society members and alumnae, and have a virtual career panel planned. We plan on welcoming 10 initiates into our fold at our Spring Honor Society Initiation Ceremony held at the Prytanean Class of 1942 Room at the Tang Center on March 22nd and enjoying tea time at Helen Marcus' '68 home next month.

On behalf of Prytanean, thank you for your support, contributions, and donations over the past year. A special thank you to the California Alumni Association who provided grants to support our Summer Welcome Party, Prytanean Homecoming Lecture, Fall Honor Society Initiation, and Faculty Award Reception. Thank you to my fellow Board members for your leadership, service, and commitment to Prytanean and the Cal community especially during these unprecedented times! For the first time since the pandemic, we will return to the Bancroft Hotel to host our Spring Annual Meeting in-person on Saturday, April 15, 2023 from 9 am–12 pm. I hope that you will all join me and the Board with your presence!

—Tina Cheung '07, President

A Call for Volunteers

Would you like to contribute to Prytanean and reconnect with the Cal community and fellow alumni? If so, join our Board of Directors or volunteer interest list! We have several openings and are seeking passionate Prytanean alumnae to join us, particularly those with event planning/management, administrative, and/or connections to the Cal community and campus. Our board is diverse and includes Prytanean alumnae and Honorary members across graduating years. To learn more, please email PRYTPAL@GMAIL.COM and address inquiries to Tina Cheung, President with the subject title [Interest in Volunteering/ Interest in Joining Prytanean Board of Directors]. Thanks!

in attendance. The guests included 2020 Prytanean Faculty Award winner UC Berkeley Associate Professor Henrike Lange in Italian Renaissance Art and Architecture.

All attendees enjoyed light refreshments and socially-distanced mingling in the beautiful University House setting. Alumnae member Helen Marcus graciously donated the wine for the evening. To ensure a safe evening, all attendees provided proof of vaccination, wore a mask unless actively eating or drinking, and completed a form stating they were free from COVID symptoms. Tien said, "This evening is a wonderful chance to celebrate our members who have donated to this prestigious grant, to thank our wonderful board members who dedicate their time and leadership to reviewing and selecting the award recipient, and to commemorate our collective annual impact in furthering the work of an outstanding early career faculty member." Overall the evening was highly inspirational and engaging. Thank you to all who have donated, volunteered, and provided leadership to continue this important award.

Andi Li-Rowena Hamilton Memorial Award

This year's Rowena Hamilton Memorial Award goes to Andi Li, a Junior in Women's Gymnastics. For over 25 years, the annual Rowena Hamilton Award has assisted women student athletes who play for Cal. Prytanean Alumnae established the award to recognize a Cal student athlete for her athletic ability, service to the community and academic performance. Last year, Li was honored as a WCGA Regular Season Second Team All-American for the second straight year, becoming only the third Cal gymnast to win the honor in multiple years, and was named All-Pac-12 First Team in the All-Around and uneven bars and honorable mention on floor. She has a career high on balance beam with a 9.925 and won the event while taking second on floor in the season opener vs. Stanford and has been named to the Pac-12 Academic Honor Roll. Li went to high school in Aurora, Illinois and both of her parents competed for China at the 1984 Summer Olympics. Her sister, Anna Li, was a US National Team Member and an eight-time NCAA All-American at UCLA, guiding the Bruins to their 2010 NCAA Championship win.

Honor Society Activities and Goals

The Prytanean Women's Honor Society has had an incredible year of community service, professional development, and forming deeper connections with the women within our organization and beyond in the general Berkeley community. We welcomed a total of 21 new members into the Honor Society during the spring and fall semester and are very excited to initiate 9 new members at the spring 2023 initiation ceremony.

One of the great things about being able to volunteer is the ability to see the tangible work and benefits it provides to the community. Our first community service event was at the Berkeley Food Network, where we helped bag, organize, and sort food that would be distributed to food insecure people within the Bay Area. During this event we learned about how the organization was mitigating food waste from restaurants and grocery stores and redistributing it to the hands of those in need. We also had the great opportunity to volunteer for Uhuru Foods and Pies which is a "Buy Black Power" institution that works on building economic development for the black community through selling their baked goods. Our members helped make tea and funnel the liquid into bottles, baked pies, and mixed, kneaded, and baked cookie dough as well as icing the cookies! Both events are pictured above! We are very excited for our next community service project on March 11th where we will be helping Friends of Five Creeks by mulching, weeding, and planting starter seeds at Berkeley's only local trout stream!

Berkeley Food Network-Community Service Event

The Honor Society also hosted a school wide professional development seminar from ProFellow, that helped students find Fellowship opportunities using their online database and gave tips on how to create a competitive application. This spring, we will be hosting a resume workshop for our members that will contain information on how to organize a successful resume that will be eye catching to employers. In addition, we hope to hold a Career Panel this April where our Prytanean Alumni will be answering questions and giving advice on career, academic and post graduations plans, how to develop professional connections with alumni and employers, and how to build a competitive skill set to reach our goals.

During this academic year the Honor Society has also had many social events where members have gotten to know each other more and take a break from the stress of college. During October, we had a Halloween pizza potluck and in February we held a Valentines Social where members got to enjoy some cupcakes and cookies while making origami hearts. We can't wait to have more socials during the spring semester as well! We'd also like to congratulate the following seniors who will be graduating this semester: Emma Caufield, Gabriela Jeliaskov, Emily Morton, Elena Ochoa, Anna Reck, Sarah Schmuck, Catherine Vera, Lianne Wong, Christina Zhang

This has been a great year for the Prytanean Women's Honor Society and we hope to keep this momentum going as we continue to make change within our community.

—Elena Ochoa '21, Honor Society President

Rowena Hamilton Award

This year's Rowena Hamilton Award recipient was: Andi Li, a Junior in Women's Gymnastics.

Women's History Month and a Celebration of Cal's Female Literary Heroes

Prytanean alumna Joan Didion, an Alumna of the Year award recipient, studied English in the 1950s among few female students. Bancroft Library, which for Didion “represented a belief in the value of the past . . . a belief in the value of the rare, the unique, the few,” holds 7.5 feet of Didion’s manuscripts, papers, and notes. The New York Public Library recently acquired additional archives.

Didion is among many Cal alumnae contributing to the literary and cultural landscape. A Cal residence hall is named after Beverly Cleary, creator of the Ramona Quimby series modeling strong women. Studying English and graduating in 1938, Cleary, a National Medal of Arts recipient, was declared a “living legend” by the Library of Congress.

A Cal student in the 1940s, Yoshiko Uchida and her family were imprisoned in internment camps. Uchida’s literary works reflect Japanese-American culture and history, alongside themes of identity, citizenship, and ethnicity. Bay Area native Amy Tan pursued graduate studies in linguistics at Cal. Tan’s bestselling books include, The Joy Luck Club and The Kitchen God’s Wife. Maxine Hong Kingston majored in English during the 1960s. As an acclaimed memoirist, Professor Emerita Kingston authored The Woman Warrior: Memoirs of a Girlhood Among Ghosts, and later returned to lecture at Cal where she remains today.

Cal literary luminaries include writers and editors of books, newspapers, magazines, music, broadcasting, film, television, and video games. Didion, whose earliest novel features a California family’s false nostalgia, sees Cal as “California’s best idea of itself.”

Homecoming Lecture; Professor G. Cristina Mora

On September 23, 2022, G. Christina Mora, Associate Professor of Sociology and Co-Director of the Institute of Governmental Studies, lectured on “Latinos and the Future of the US Racial Landscape”. The lecture was chosen by the university to be live streamed.

In the coming decade, Latinx communities are poised to makeup just over 20 percent of the nation’s population. However, lingering questions about inequality, identity, and the role that Latinx play in visions of racial justice and multiracial democracy remain. This talk examined these issues, showing how the construction of race and ethnicity in America has historically served as a mechanism for reinforcing Latinx inequality and institutionalized racism more broadly. Drawing on census, public opinion, and polling data, this work reveals how critical Latinx issues are for understanding the racial future of the nation.

Financial Remarks

At year end 2022, Prytanean Alumnae had total investment funds of $1,506,026.27, a decrease over year end 2021. The decrease is reflective of the market in 2022, and we have worked closely with our investment manager to ensure a balanced portfolio. Of this total, $993,840.67 is exclusively earmarked for our annual Prytanean Faculty Enrichment Award and is managed by Fisher Investments. The remaining investment funds of $512,185.60 support various student scholarships and are managed as endowments by either UC Berkeley Foundation or UC Regents. We are pleased to assure you our investment funds are sufficient to continue the annual $25,000 Faculty Enrichment Award and other student scholarships for the foreseeable future. Regarding our operating funds, at year end 2022 we had $44,446.34 held in a checking account. Membership dues and donations made up our 2022 operating revenue of $22,218.50. This revenue supports the following operating expenses: our annual newsletter, the Faculty Award Reception, the Annual Brunch, CPA fees, database maintenance, plus the collegiates’ Prytanean Honor Society operating budget and Campus Projects.
